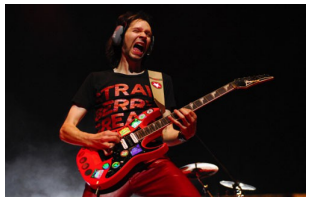
www.MyGuitarLessons.co.uk

Pentatonic, Lowered F# in A(pt.2)- Level 21



```
E|--------------------1-5----------------------|
B|----------------2-5------------------------|
G|------------2-4--------------------------|
D|--------2-3------------------------------|
A|----2-4----------------------------------|
E|1-5--------------------------------------|

E|----------------------5-7------------------|
B|------------------5-6--------------------|
G|----------------4-6----------------------|
D|----------3-7----------------------------|
A|-----4-7---------------------------------|
E|5-7--------------------------------------|

E|------------------------7-9---------------|
B|--------------------7-10-------------------|
G|--------------6-10-----------------------|
D|--------7-9------------------------------|
A|----7-8----------------------------------|
E|7-9--------------------------------------|

E|------------------------------9-12----------|
B|------------------------10-12----------------|
G|------------------9-10-------------------|
D|------------9-11-------------------------|
A|------8-11-------------------------------|
E|9-11-------------------------------------|

E|-----------------------------11-12----------|
B|------------------------12-14----------------|
G|------------------10-14-------------------|
D|------------11-14-------------------------|
A|------12-14-------------------------------|
E|12-13-------------------------------------|
```

The Lowered F# major pentatonic was shown to some 'My Guitar Lessons' tutors by no other than guitar virtuoso Mr Paul Gilbert. Use this with the Major Pentatonic with a dropped C# exercise. 'When playing over the rhythm in A use a standard A major pentatonic (same as an F# pentatonic)', says Paul. 'The clever part comes on the 5th of the progression when the rhythm changes to a E. Drop the F# note down a semi-tone to an F (as shown above)'.

Homework;
Learn each new scale one at a time. First week do the first scale and then play along with your tutor with an improvised blues using this on the 5th part of the progression.

Approved to teach guitar by My Guitar Lessons.